

MOLOKAI RAINS CAUSE LANDSLIDES AND CHANGES IN BEDS OF STREAMS

Bowen Place Near Pukoo Entirely Under Water; Mountains Show Storm Scars

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WAILUKU, Maui, Jan. 26.—From Pukoo mail has this week been received by county officials telling the details of the work of the storm on the island of Molokai. The same strange circumstances are reported from the second large island of Maui county as were noted here, namely, that the unexpected happened. Bridges that were in the most dangerous places were left intact, while in other portions the bridges that were thought most secure were lost.

The streams changed their courses so completely that the effects of the terrible storm could not be calculated at all. Kaunakakai and Pukoo have been washed out by the freshets. The wind took up the sands below Kaunakakai, and the old roadways are unrecognizable. Howard D. Bowen's place near Pukoo is completely under water, according to reports that have come in this week, and the extent of the damage will not be known until the water subsides, and he can see how much soil he has left to work with. It is expected, too, that the other farms in the flats around Pukoo are greatly damaged. From Maui the landslides on the Molokai mountainsides are visible, and it is surmised that these great slides caused the changes in the streams, and made the water find new channels.

New Channels Near Tops.
Those who know the tops of the Molokai mountains are of the opinion that the abundance of water there, which is usually lost in the sands on the lowlands, would be so augmented by the storm that even near the tops of the mountains new channels may have been started. Fortunately on Molokai only a few houses were damaged and no lives were lost. One schoolhouse, near Wailuku, was wrecked.

By dint of hard work the telephone lines on Maui are now all in working order in the central portion, except in the Kula and Kihel regions. It will take some little time more to get these in shape. The telephone company reports that the Hana and Keanae lines are in repair.

No bodies have been found since Saturday. Those who have been watching the progress of the searching parties are firmly of the belief that those missing were washed down the river by the torrent, and that their bodies are in the ocean. Possibly the theory that they are buried in the stream under debris or the wash from the mountains may be true. The water was low yesterday and clear, so that it would seem that the first theory that the bodies are in the sea is more nearly correct.

The preliminary work of the relief committee is pretty well in hand today. Immediate relief has been given in all cases. Just what more is to be done cannot as yet be ascertained. The committee is working hard on all phases of the problems presented.

No More Dimes For Notices To Creditors, Rule

Might Be "Graft" to Charge for Paper and Envelope in Bankruptcy Matters

In a decision handed down by Federal Judge Charles F. Clemens the interpretation by federal courts of a rule by the United States supreme court with regard to certain fees in bankruptcy matters, is apparently upset. The decision also establishes a new precedent in bankruptcy proceedings in Hawaii.

According to former proceedings the federal court clerk received 10 cents for sending out each notice to creditors in bankruptcy matters, but Judge Clemens now holds that the $10 filing fee covers this and other expenses, and also that the manner in which the supreme court rules on this point as interpreted by some mainland federal courts is wrong.

Judge Clemens finds as follows:
"Notice to creditors: Special or extra compensation is not allowable to the clerk of court, under general order in bankruptcy No. XXXV, section 1, for mailing notices to creditors, his clerical services in such matters—so far at least as no extraordinary expense is involved—being covered by the filing fee of $10 provided by bankruptcy act, section 52, subdivision a."

Not the Practise Here.

The decision goes on to say that the question has arisen whether the clerk of court may in bankruptcy cases, make a charge for mailing notices to creditors. "For several years," it continues, "from and after the institution of this court it was the practise here for the clerk to make such a charge. Somewhere for what reason I have not been able to ascertain—the practise ceased and has not been followed for at least seven years. The practise, I am informed by an examiner of the department of justice, is followed in all the federal courts on the Pacific coast."

Judge Clemens says that he does not go so far, however, as to express disapproval of the rule approved by the supreme court in Section 1 of General Order XXXV, but rather expresses his disagreement with the application of this rule by the judges and clerks in other districts. He continues:

"To make a charge for the stationery used would be impracticable and contrary to practise in all other cases, and the amount chargeable for an envelope and a small sheet of paper would be trivial, anyway. It strikes me as suggestive of 'graft' and quite unworthy of a high public official to make charges not clearly contemplated by the statute in an endeavor, it may be, to get by such irregular means a fair earning for his office in the case involved."

SAVE YOUR HAIR! 25 CENT BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Every Bit of Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out

Try This! Your Hair Appears Glossy, Abundant, Wavy and Beautiful

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.—Adv.
